

"the next generation able in its turn to do its work in the country."

Plays "Weak Good Nature."

Mr. Roosevelt criticized "a weak good nature, incapable of righteous wrath," saying it was almost as unfortunate an attribute for a citizen as willingness to do wrong.

"If," he declared, "you haven't got it in you to strive manfully against wrong, you will accomplish but little for the right."

"America must rise level to the ideals of the founders of the nation when they started this mighty republic on the road to self-government. These ideals were to found here a government of the people, by the people, where one man should not wrong his neighbor where the nation should wrong no outsider, and should be able to resist aggression from without. I hope to see this nation play an ever-growing part in the world's affairs. I cannot play that part unless it is willing to accept the responsibilities that go with it."

"We cannot do our first and primary duty at home within our own borders unless we strive measurably to realize certain ideals. By this, I do not mean merely to talk about them at Fourth of July celebrations; to speak of them and applaud the speeches; then go home and have neither speaker nor listener practice what this virtually has been preached. We should say and applaud only what we believe in. And having said it, and having applauded it when said, we should try to put it into practice."

Officers May Strike

BUTTE, Mont., May 2.—The deputy sheriffs of Silver Bow county may demand an increase in pay and quit if they do not get it, following the example of the deputy county assessors yesterday. The demand of the latter is still unsatisfied. The county commissioners and Attorney-General Galen will hold a conference today. If the deputy assessors' demand is not met, the men affected are fixed by statute, and a solution of the difficulty seems distant.

FRIENDS HELP

St. Paul Park Incident.

"After drinking coffee for breakfast I always felt languid and dull, having no ambition to get to my morning duties. Then in about an hour or so a weak, nervous derangement of the heart and stomach would come over me with such force I would frequently have to lie down."

"At other times I had severe headaches; stomach finally became affected and digestion so impaired that I had serious chronic dyspepsia and constipation. A lady, for many years State President of the W. C. T. U., told me she had been greatly benefited by quinine coffee and Postum Food Coffee."

"Another lady, who had been troubled with chronic dyspepsia for years, found immediate relief on ceasing coffee and beginning Postum twice a day. She was wholly cured. Still another friend told me that Postum Food Coffee was a Godsend to her, her heart trouble having been relieved after leaving off coffee and taking on Postum."

"So many such cases came to my notice that I concluded coffee was the cause of my trouble and I quit and took up Postum. I am more than pleased to say that my days of trouble have disappeared. I am well and happy."

Guy Dent Arrested for Stealing Two Certified Checks and Cashing Them.

Deputy Sheriff R. G. Richards of Butte, Mont., left here at 11:45 Thursday night for that place with Guy Dent, aged twenty-two years, charged with grand larceny. Detectives Chase and Burt arrested Dent late Wednesday night upon a description of Dent and information furnished by Deputy Sheriff Richards, who was in hot pursuit of him.

Several days ago Dent's roommate there found his trunk broken open and two certified checks for $700 gone, also $150 in cash was missing. Dent failed to show up and was traced to Anaconda, where he cashed the checks. A day or so ago trace was had of him at Ogden and Deputy Sheriff Richards immediately came to the junction city, but the man had left. He came on to Salt Lake City, with a description of Dent and the local officers soon made the fugitive a prisoner.

Smith, register of the Land office, formerly private secretary for Senator Heyburn, received the following telegram from the Senator at Washington: "Am reduced to great weakness and liable to be in bed for some weeks. Doctors think I am gaining some strength each day." B. HEYBURN.

It is believed that Senator Heyburn may be laid up for some time, but that his wonderful will power, which has pulled him through other trials and tricks, will pull him out of this one also.

A find of buried treasure from the antiquarian's point of view was made a day or two ago at the State house in Boise. It is the discovery of a box of the first histories of Idaho ever printed—the report issued in 1847 by James L. O'Connell, territorial controller.

The State has inspector on a recent trip found a number of cases of "foul brood," a parasitic disease affecting the larvae while in the comb. The disease is very hard on the bees and will destroy hives after hives if it once gets a start in any apiary.

The frost which visited about Boise early Tuesday morning did great damage to the fruit crop. In several localities orchardists report that the crop of peaches has been cut from one-third to one-half. They also state that the peach crop has been practically all destroyed, and that the apples and harder fruits are damaged considerably.

Colton, for an association of Vernal men, namely, Messrs. W. A. Taylor, Robert Dink, J. B. Dink, L. N. Shank, L. L. Gray and Dan Lybberts. It is known as the Pelican Lake reservoir, and is situated in township 7 south, range 20 east, some three miles west of Vernal, at a point known as Baser's bend. It is estimated that there is at least three sections of good tillable land in the area, and will spend about three months in target practice.

WON'T DISCUSS THE BORAH CASE

Idaho District Attorney, However, Doesn't Deny Indictment of Senator.

RECEIVED NO REBUKE FROM HIS SUPERIORS

Mr. Ruick Declares That His Visit to Washington Was Most Satisfactory.

United States District Attorney N. M. Ruick of Idaho, who is popularly credited with having secured the indictment of Senator W. E. Borah on a charge of complicity in the alleged Idaho land frauds, was in Salt Lake Thursday night on his way home to Boise from the national capital. With great courtesy, but exceeding firmness, Mr. Ruick declined to discuss the rumored indictment of Senator Borah, or to affirm or deny that such an indictment had been returned by the Federal grand jury.

"Senator Borah himself is credited with having expressed a belief that he was indicted," said Mr. Ruick, "but I am not in a position to discuss the matter. The Boise Statesman published a purported Washington dispatch, in which I was quoted as intending to prosecute Mr. Borah, but that dispatch did not contain a syllable of truth. I gave out no interviews to anybody while I was in Washington, nor did I discuss Idaho matters with anybody who did talk for publication."

Mr. Ruick admitted that several indictments were returned by the recent Federal grand jury, but declined to say when these indictments would be made public. The Boise term of the Federal court, he said, had been adjourned until June, and the next regular term commenced in September.

He Wasn't Called Down.

"Were you summoned to Washington to be reprimanded or rebuked as to any of your official acts?" Mr. Ruick was asked, the question being prompted by the rumor circulated by Senator Borah's friends that Mr. Ruick was in disfavor with the department. "I was not," he replied. "No, sir, I was not," replied Mr. Ruick with emphasis. "While the grand jury was in session I received a dispatch from Attorney-General Bonaparte concerning Idaho matters, and the dispatch closed by asking me to report in person to him as soon as the state of public business would permit. In response to that telegram I went to Washington as soon as I could get away. I had two interviews with Mr. Bonaparte and two with President Roosevelt. All of those interviews were satisfactory to me, though you can readily understand that I cannot disclose the nature of them. I was neither criticized nor reprimanded, however."

Will Hold His Job.

"Is there any truth in the report that you will resign as district attorney to accept a position as special prosecutor for the Government in land fraud cases?" was asked.

"I anticipate no change in my present position," was Mr. Ruick's answer. "I do not expect to be made a special prosecutor, nor do I expect that any special prosecutor will be sent to Idaho. Certainly, none will be sent unless I ask for it, and I do not anticipate asking for it."

Asked if he was a personal enemy of Senator Borah, Mr. Ruick replied:

"So far as I know, the relations between Senator Borah and myself are cordial. It is true that I have not drilled with the senator men in the Republican party. There were other men in the ranks of the party whose elevation to the Senate I favored rather than the elevation of Mr. Borah. I said so frankly to Mr. Borah himself; but as to personal feeling or political malice toward him, I do not entertain any in the slightest degree."

Miners Took No Part.

"Did the Western Federation of Miners have any part in influencing any action of the recent Federal grand jury?" was asked.

"The slightest in the world," replied Mr. Ruick, with emphasis. "Such a report is ridiculous."

It will be recalled that friends of Senator Borah, at the time he expressed the belief that he had been indicted, intimated that the Western Federation of Miners because Mr. Borah is assistant counsel for the State in the Moyer-Haywood-Pettibone murder case. This, and the charge that Mr. Borah was being persecuted by Mr. Ruick, were given wide publicity.

Mr. Ruick said that he had called twice upon Senator W. B. Heyburn while he was in the east, and that Senator Heyburn, who had been very ill, was improving rapidly. He also saw ex-Senator Fred T. Dubois in Washington.

GILFEY SALOON BEATS GOLD MINE

Dividends From Green Tables and Drinks 30 Per Cent Monthly.

PLACE IS CAPITALIZED FOR HUNDRED THOUSAND

It Pays Dividend of 36 Per Cent on Million-Dollar Valuation.

GOLDFIELD, Nev., May 2.—If there is a high-grade proposition in the State of Nevada that can beat the Nevada saloon as a dividend-producer it is yet to be heard from. The corporation controlling it is capitalized at $1,000,000, and during the past year average dividends have been declared of 30 per cent per month.

The directors are Tex Rickard, E. S. Highley, William Haag and Ray Holbrook. They met last night and after going over their books declared a dividend for the past month of 35 per cent, and could easily have made it 40 per cent, according to the following statement:

Net winnings from gambling tables ..... $30,421
Bar receipts ..... 15,025
Total ..... $45,446

And this in the face of the labor troubles and a stringency in the money market.

An average of 30 per cent a month on a capitalization of $1,000,000 means a return of $300,000 a year, or an annual dividend of 30 per cent on $1,000,000.

"Tex" said last night that as soon as the premises were enlarged and they had two bars and a few more games running, the dividends would be increased to 50 per cent.

LARRY SULLIVAN WANTS TO SUCCEED SENATOR NEWLANDS.

RENO, Nev., May 2.—Larry Sullivan will probably be a candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Francis G. Newlands.

That is the little item published in the Nevada Mining and Development, and if he decides to run, he will probably be a candidate for the Democratic party, and those on the inside claim they are not astonished at the announcement.

Sullivan is a politician who knows how to do the business along the most approved Democratic line, and if he decides to get into the fight the war will be a merry one. Newlands, it is said, has already begun to strengthen his fences because of the announcement of Sullivan's intentions. He will probably return from the east immediately to take personal charge of the battle.

OVER IN NEVADA.

What Is Going on in the Sagebrush State.

Joe Fagundes, eight years old, was dragged to death by a horse near Yerington.

Diphtheria, scarlet fever and spinal meningitis claimed victims in Yerington last week.

The Nevada Hippodrome Circuit company will build an $88,000 theater in Goldfield.

John Sheerin, formerly of Virginia City, is dead in Reno, where he was 36 years of age. He helped to build the mint in San Francisco.

R. C. Keer, a leaser three miles northeast of Goldfield, was severely injured in a runaway. Two ribs were broken. He was unconscious when found.

John Molamphy, after spending all the money he had made by the sale of the Goldfield mine, died in Reno of pneumonia, due to a prolonged debauch.

The corner stone of St. John's Episcopal church in Goldfield was laid Sunday by the visiting services. Bishop Moreland of the diocese of Sacramento officiated.

An unknown tramp was ground to pieces by a Southern Pacific train between Hazen and Painesville. There was nothing about his person to disclose his identity.

Diphtheria is prevalent in Reno and has been for the past two weeks, but it is not of a virulent type. There are at least two houses under quarantine, but the schools have not been closed, and will not be unless the disease spreads.

A dispute over a $1 bet at the faro table in the Palace saloon, owned by Thomas H. O'Neill, in Carson, was carried by the violent attack of one of the players on the other, in which a household received several cuts at the hands of Verne Baird, none of which are of a serious nature.

A double wedding, uniting two sisters to prosperous Vernon mining men, was celebrated at the Hotel McCormack in Reno. Curtis Eyle and Miss Elizabeth Marker and Edwin W. Dink and Miss Emily E. Marker were made man and wife.

John Maurer, president of the Reno Brewing company, has been in Ely for several days to complete the arrangements for the erection of his Ely brewery plant. The brewery, when completed, will cost about $100,000 and will have a daily capacity of 100 barrels of beer.

SNEEZED TO DEATH.

Shepherd, Falls Dead From Peculiar Attack.

MEETSETSE, Wyo., May 2.—Henry Goodmiller, a Wyoming sheep herder, began to sneeze several days ago, and he sneezed almost uninterruptedly until he fell dead. Bursting of a blood vessel was the immediate and direct cause of the man's death. Goodmiller had contracted a severe cold, which settled in his head.

The sneezing attack which resulted in Goodmiller's death came on a few minutes after he arose from his bed in the morning, and he could not check it. He sneezed constantly and very violently for ten or fifteen minutes, when suddenly he fell over and expired.

Blundering Some More.

When one considers the attitude of the Herald these days, it is not at all improper to conclude that a very appropriate present for that newspaper would be a couple of gross of Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup, and two or three nursing bottles on the side. In all truth and fairness the Herald acts very much as though it had not yet laid aside its swaddling clothes. Having involved itself in an unpleasant predicament on several matters of public interest, it blunders like an overgrown baby when it finds the public criticizing its infantile procedure.

Most persons will remember the beautiful spectacle which the Herald made of itself a little more than a year ago, when it denounced Mayor Thompson and the American party administration because the wage of city employees was increased from $2 to $2.25 per day.

Do the working men of Salt Lake believe that the Herald's attitude in denouncing this as a bit of extravagance on the part of the city was an exhibition of its friendliness to the man who toils?

Is there a man or woman in Salt Lake who has a family to support, who meets the bills of the landlord, the doctor, the butcher and the baker, that will endorse the Herald's attitude in claiming that $2.25 a day is a high price for labor? THAT IS JUST EXACTLY WHAT THE SALT LAKE HERALD DID, AND IT IS ONLY ANOTHER INSTANCE OF THE HERALD'S REAL OPPOSITION TO DECENT WAGES FOR THE MAN WHO WORKS.

Is it at all surprising that that newspaper denounced the police of Salt Lake because these officers would not go into the crowds who sympathized with the striking street car men and beat the heads off of a few who had congregated?

Is it at all surprising that men, regardless of their obedience to the law, were characterized as mobocrats because their curiosity attracted them to the exciting scenes of the police department?

Is there any man who has the smallest sense of reason and fairness who would believe that it is proper to endorse the employee of the railroad company who went to his work with a pair of brass knuckles in his pocket and the other who carried a pistol and drew it on an excited crowd? Were these two employees lawabiding citizens? Were they entitled to the character of "the mob" to assault?

As a matter of fact, did they not put themselves precisely in the same category as such men as the lunch-counter prizefighter Bernstein, who made himself conspicuous in the disturbances of those days?

What right has any man to carry brass knuckles? Is not the man who carries brass knuckles entitled to the severest condemnation? Is there anything so heinous as the police department's action in not expelling an indignant friend to order, but the insane ravings of a bulic who permits his personal and political hatred of the chief of police to carry him to extremes that no even-minded citizen can possibly endorse. And in doing so the city of Salt Lake was slandered as it has not been by its greatest enemies.

Now, to express my dislike for The Tribune because this newspaper has called public attention to the fully adequate temperate statement, it raves because The Tribune is the recipient of a fair proportion of the printing that is issued by the American party city administration.

It rises to the heights of its political infamy by claiming that a newspaper that will make such charges is holding up the taxpayers of this city.

In the first place, excessive charges are not made for this printing, and if these charges are excessive, THEY ARE PRECISELY THE SAME CLASS OF PRINTING, WHILE IT, THE HERALD, WAS THE RECIPIENT OF THE PUBLIC PRINTING UNDER THE MORRIS ADMINISTRATION. The charges are the same as The Tribune made for similar work under the first administration of Mayor Thompson. There have been no increases.

It might be of interest to the public to know, however, that the printing which the Herald received during the Morris administration was the City Recorder, and the charges of the Herald while he was the same as the Herald charged at that time) are excessive (a claim which we emphatically deny), would it not seem as a bit of gall on the part of the Herald to characterize such charges, when made by The Tribune, as a robbery of the people?
